Civil Service Starts Class On Bilingualism

OTTAWA (CP) — The first step towards a bilingual federal public service will be taken by the civil service commission Jan. 1.

The commission said today a pilot project to establish language training facilities in the public service will start the first of next year and involve 30 civil servants.

It said 15 French-speaking civil servants will be taught English and 15 English-speaking civil servants will be taught French.

The students will be volunteers from several departments and will study full-time five days a week for two to three months in order to build up a basic vocabulary appropriate to the needs of the public service.

The students will receive their usual pay while they are learning. Other groups will take the classes later.

Canada 'Fails' In Caribbean

BRIDGETOWN (AP) — Premier Earl Barnes of Barbados stands by his claim that Canada is "failing miserably" in its financial obligations to Commonwealth neighbors in the Caribbean.

Barnes returned Wednesday night from a visit to Barbados where he spoke during a seminar at the University of New Barbados.

At the seminar, he accused Canada of not providing enough financial support for Commonwealth and of wasting money in Caribbean plan aid to the Far East.

The opposition leader in the Canadian Parliament, John Diefenbaker, also seems to feel that Canada is not supplying enough aid to Caribbean parties and the Caribbean people have accepted this as true, Barnes said.

Space Woman About To Wed

BUDAPEST (AP) — The Hungarian news agency MTI said today Valentina Tereshkova, 26, the first woman in space, will marry Andrian Nikolavich, 34, the third Soviet man in space, in Moscow soon.

The agency's Moscow correspondent wrote:

"The wedding is to take place probably Saturday, Nov. 2, in one of Moscow's registrar offices."

Rumors that they planned to wed have circulated since last June, when Mrs. Tereshkova came down from her 49 orbits in space. Nikolavich stuck close to her during the Moscow welcome ceremonies for her and her space partner, Valery Bykovsky.

Mrs. Tereshkova told reporters during a recent visit to New York:

"I am not engaged. But when I get married you will definitely find out."

Trapped Miners Brought Up Friday

BROISTEDT, West Germany (AP) — Three miners, trapped for more than a week in a flooded iron mine, will be brought to the surface Friday morning, a spokesman for the mine management said today.

There had been speculation they might get out tonight.

Difficulties in constructing an effective air seal at the top of a rescue shaft delayed the drilling of the last section.

There were still 62 feet to be bored through to the air pocket where the men have been imprisoned by floodwater since Oct. 24.

The three were trapped 230 feet below the surface in a pocket of air compressed by water from a broken dam which claimed the lives of 40 other miners in the pit.

New Fund Set For Students

TORONTO (CP) — The Canadian Scholarship Trust Foundation announced today it has set up a "mid-term emergency student loan fund" to help Canadian college students unable to complete the academic year for lack of money.

Chief Of Air Staff 'In Poor Situation'

OTTAWA (CP) — Air Marshal Larry Dunlop, chief of air staff, conceded under questioning today that the situation of half the RCAF air division in Europe is "disappointing but satisfactory."

Four of the eight squadrons of CF-104 low-level nuclear bombers are stationed on two French bases and France does not permit American nuclear warheads on her soil.

Air Marshal Dunlop told the Commons defence committee this is "not a very desirable situation and one we would have hoped not to have to face."

The RCAF had "hoped through the years" that France would change its attitude concerning storage of nuclear warheads.

France may still change her position, he added.

Pilot Lost Control, Killed In Sideslip

BOSTON BAR (CP) — As a light plane skidded out of control Wednesday the pilot told his passenger: "I think we've had it."

Then the plane plowed into the ground, tipping off its undercarriage and bending the wings back.

The pilot, Peter Kennedy, 30, of Monterey Park, Calif., was killed.

His passenger Ted Eagles, 22, of North Bend, across the Fraser River from this community, 100 miles northeast of Vancouver, was shaken up.

The plane was landing at a small airstrip when the pilot lost control.

Mrs. Ernest Eagles, mother of the passenger, said her son told her the pilot's last words.

Hospital officials said Eagles was in satisfactory condition suffering cuts.

Brownie Leader Drowns In River

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) — A Brownie leader fell off a cliff into the Missouri River and was drowned as two of her children and 12 members of her troop watched in horror.

An associate Brownie leader almost lost her life in an attempt to save Mrs. William Dortha Kempa, 28, of Great Falls, Wednesday.

The troop was hiking on a verticle rock ledge above the river hunting for driftwood.

Mrs. Kempa attempted to climb down what appeared to be a safe bank, but lost her footing and toppled into the river.

Mrs. Don Kenczka, mother of five, plunged into the icy water, swam to Mrs. Kempa and tried to drag her to shore. Tumbled by the cold, Mrs. Kenczka was pulled under the water twice and finally clung to rocks until passersby pulled her to safety.

Children Get Fizzy End of Lollipop

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Once upon a time, when you and I were little, Halloween was a lot of fun. We dressed up real scary, went out trick-or-treating and trunk terror to the hearts of all, or so we hoped.

But trick-or-treating children get the fuzzy end of the lollipop today, and those who survive Halloween's can't become heart cases testify to the durability of the species.

Why? Because of the gleeful ghouls who wait, spider-like, for the innocent little monsters to come tripping up the walk.

Take 11-year-old Mark Tusler of Santa Monica, for instance.

Mark's father is Dr. Robert Tusler, professor of musicology at the University of California. When Mark decided last year that Halloween can work both ways, he told his dad: "Bring me some spooky music."

SCHOENBERG DOES IT
Tusler carried records back and forth for a week, until

Mark found what he wanted—Arnold Schoenberg's Pierrot Lunaire, a modish work for orchestra and a soprano who recites her part, rather than singing it, in a series of odd-sounding, uncatchy phrases.

To Schoenberg, Mrs. Tusler sound lovely, but even some adults feel it is best heard in broad daylight.

Mark, with the help of his father, wore a cowl of black string, festooned the house with them, de-tailed the front door so it squeaked properly, rigged it so it could be opened by strings from an upstairs window, hung a skeleton in the entry, doused the lights and then . . . the Tuslers waited.

"Or rather, the adult Tuslers waited. Mark left things in his dad's unpracticed hands and trotted off to get trick-or-treating at safer homes."

"I spent the whole night coaxing kids in for their treats," Dr. Tusler said. They wouldn't judge through the door when they heard that music. Don't blame them, either. I know the place very well, and I thought I'd die before the night was over."

VERNON SENIOR CITIZEN RESTHOLM READY FOR OCCUPANCY ON DECEMBER 20.

Restholm Plans Continue In Spite of Low Finances

VERNON (Staff) — Continue. We appeal to the citizens of Vernon Restholm for their hearts to this humanitarian cause. Citizens continue favorably desirous of undertaking and get behind the lack of necessary funds, the Association and help.

Association president Guy P. Bagnall said today, the building should be completed and ready for occupancy by December 20, providing sufficient funds are raised to complete financing.

NEED MONEY
"We still need approximately $200,000 to complete the financing. If we don't get this money, we can't complete the home, and pay the interest."

Kidnapped Moose Jaw Child Found 15 Miles From City

MOOSE JAW (CP) — A six-year-old girl, cold and nearly exhausted, was found today about 15 miles east of Moose Jaw after being forced into a car while walking in the city's west end Wednesday afternoon.

Police said Beverly Gabel appeared to have spent the entire night wandering in a farm area in only the light dress jacket and slippers she was wearing when abducted. The overnight temperature dropped to 19 degrees.

Beverly ran into her father's arms when police brought her home.

"Daddy I was scared, cold and crying."

"The man fed me chocolate and gave me money. He dropped me off shortly before dark and said he was going to get gas and would come back."

"But he never came back."

The girl's mother was under heavy sedation overnight. When told this morning Beverly had been found, apparently unharmed, she said, "I know she's dead, but they just won't tell me."

The little girl was found by a construction worker about 8:30 a.m. near a road allowance four miles off the main highway.

She was taken to the farm home of Jack Stokes who telephoned city police.

The RCMP brought the girl to the city where her father, CPR employee Gordon Gabel, took her to hospital.

Police said it appeared that the child was not molested.

The girl told police only one man, not two as earlier reported, was in the light-colored car into which she was forced.

PRAYER BREAK FOR DRIVERS

HAMILTON (CP) — A tiny church near here offers prayer breaks for harassed motorists.

The church, with a tape recording as resident pastor, was built by the Christian Reformed Church. It can hold six persons.

The tape recording of a hymn followed by a two-minute sermon starts automatically when the door is opened.

Chairman Marjorie Aggs says "we don't use it to advertise our own church because this little church was meant for all." He hopes it will provide a few moments of calm for truck drivers and tense motorists.

The church is on the highway running from Hamilton to Port Dover on Lake Erie.

Gagliardi Finds Road Process

VICTORIA (CP) — Highway Minister Gagliardi returned home from a week in The Netherlands Wednesday confident he has found a road construction process that can save his department millions of dollars.

He said the Dutch method of building highways through unstable ground is likely to have a major impact in British Columbia.

Mr. Gagliardi said his visit to Europe resulted from talks he had in Victoria earlier this year with a Dutch engineering company.

Traffic Accidents Setting Records

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadians were involved in a record number of traffic accidents in 1962 and 1963 promises to be even worse, the All-Canada Insurance Federation said today.

In 1962 there were 311,181 traffic accidents reported in Canada, resulting in 3,899 deaths and 111,125 injuries.

The number of accidents rose 16.5 per cent compared with 1961, while the total number of car registrations rose only two per cent.

"Many times we have been told the old age pensioner cannot afford to live in the Restholm. This is not the case. No applicants will be turned away because of his inability to pay."

"Better than this, we have information that where old age pensioners are receiving provincial welfare allowance the shortage in funds will be made up, but there is a condition, that each case will be decided upon its merits."

"Let us say that as at January, 1964, the old age pension has been increased to $75, then add the provincial welfare allowance of $24, plus the amount to be added (where approved) of $6, giving a total of $105."

Room and board charge at the Restholm would be $95 per month, allowing the pensioner spending money of $10," said Mr. Bagnall.

"Our need is most urgent and we hope the citizens will continue buying our debentures and sending in their donations, all of which will be promptly acknowledged."

Civil Rights 'For Everyone'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — President Kennedy told a Democratic party rally in this Pennsylvania city Wednesday night that civil rights is not a partisan issue but a matter of concern to all Americans.

He was speaking at $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in support of Mayor James H. J. Tate who is seeking re-election Nov. 5 to a four-year term.

"With bipartisan support, and that means Republicans as well as Democrats, we are putting forward legislation which is strong, just, effective, and reasonable, to ensure all Americans the rights and opportunities which they deserve," the president said.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM ROBERT CURTIS

Rutland Couple Celebrate Their Diamond Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William Robert Curtis, of Beasmyth Road, Rutland, celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary on Tuesday, October 27th and were the recipients of the good wishes and congratulations of the members of their family, their neighbors and friends, on this happy occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis were married at Ellersborough, in Buckinghamshire, England, Oct. 29th, 1903. Both were natives of the County of "Bucks", as it is usually called. Mr. Curtis having been born at Chesham, and Mrs. Curtis whose maiden name was Edith Sarah Goodson, was born at Chesham and moved to Chesham with her parents in 1903.

Mr. Curtis celebrated his 60th birthday on Feb. 16th last, having been born in the year 1871, and Mrs. Curtis is now in her 57th year, her birth date being Dec. 12th 1876. In spite of their advanced years the couple are still active, and Mr. Curtis takes a keen interest in the farm, which is operated by his son Frank, while Mrs. Curtis was until very recently, a nurse in the Anglican W.A. of St. Albans, and an ardent amateur gardener.

Mr. Curtis went to South Africa in 1903, as a young man of 22, and worked on railway construction there for four years. On returning to the Old Country and his old home at Ellersborough he met his future bride there in 1904, and five years later they were married. Their son, and only child, William Frank Curtis was born in 1905. Farming was Mr. Curtis' occupation in England, and when, in 1911, they decided to come to Canada, it was to take up land in the Sedgewick district, Alberta, where he farmed for 24 years.

During the First World War he served four years with the Canadian Engineers, most of that time being spent in France. He came to B.C. in Nov. 1915 to retire, and now his son Frank, who had purchased the former Beasmyth farm on the east bank of Mill Creek.

The family held a Diamond Wedding Anniversary dinner at the home of a granddaughter, Mrs. Edward Tarszewski, in Glenmore, Tuesday evening, which was attended by the immediate relatives. In addition to their granddaughter the couple have three grandsons, Kenneth, Edward and Gary. Curtis. A Diamond Wedding Cake, made by their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank Curtis, centered the table at the dinner.

St. David's Church Bazaar Marks Seventh Anniversary

By FLORA EVANS
Women's Editor

The annual bazaar sponsored by the Ladies' Guild of Saint David's Presbyterian Church will take place on Saturday, November 2nd, in the church hall which will be decorated with interesting travel posters from Light's Travel Service, and paintings by students of T. Stoddart Cowan's art classes at the Rutland High School. The purpose of the bazaar is to raise money for church work and also to mark the seventh anniversary of Saint David's Presbyterian Church.

A moving spirit in the building of this church has been T. Stoddart Cowan who arrived in Kelowna with his wife and two daughters ten years ago. At that time there was no Presbyterian Church in the district, just a dozen or so elderly Presbyterians who formed a nucleus of a congregation. The Reverend George Patterson, who acted as pastor for both Vernon and Kelowna at the time, was leaving for the United States and he recommended the charge to be closed because of lack of growth in the congregation. Mr. Cowan took a service of two until some decision was reached. That was in 1904, and now nine and a half years later he is still "in" but there is no longer any suggestion of closing the charge.

In 1906 the interesting new church valued at some $75,000 was built at the corner of Pandosy and Sutherland Avenues, and in 1907 the attractive educational building known as the Hall was added. The present congregation consists of some 150 members and many more adherents, and a very great deal of this is due to the work of Mr. Cowan as lay minister and of his wife who is treasurer of the Ladies' Guild, and is an extremely active church member. One wonders how Mr. Cowan who has continued to teach at the Rutland High School where he specializes in art and also teaches French, English and guidance has had the time and energy to build up Saint David's Church, doing their pastoral work, visitations, preaching, and taking the funerals. When asked he merely smiled and suggested that this has been his way of being of service to the community.

Mr. Cowan's original qualifications for teaching when he arrived from Scotland was a Diploma of Art from the Glasgow School of Art which represents five years of full time study followed by two years teacher's training for which he was awarded the 'Parchment' of the Scottish Board of Education as a specialist teacher of art. However not satisfied with these honors the energetic Mr. Cowan attended Summer School at UBC in 1908 and since then with the aid of summer school and extra winter courses he has obtained two Canadian degrees—a Bachelor of Education secondary degree in 1909, and this fall his Master of Education Degree in educational administration. To honor this achievement and also to celebrate his Silver Wedding Anniversary, the proud congregation of Saint David's presented Mr. and Mrs. Cowan with a cabinet of table silver in appreciation of the wonderful work they have done for the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowan have two daughters. The elder, Alleen Dunlop Cowan, is now studying at UBC and the younger, Lynda Ann, is attending the Immaculate School in Kelowna.

I have digressed here somewhat from the coming bazaar which I am sure will be a tremendous success as always, but I felt it would be of great interest to many people to know more about the man around whose many activities and great heartedness the Presbyterian Church of Kelowna has grown. Don't miss the bazaar—see you there Saturday afternoon.

Woman Member Can Be Asset To Liquor Licensing Board

WINNIPEG (CP) — When the provincial government recently appointed a woman member to the Manitoba Liquor Licensing Board it had a wealth of happy experience to back its decision.

While Alberta Blackburn will be the only woman member, she has a fine example to follow, that of retiring Mrs. E. S. Russenbolt, stepping down after seven years.

Dark and vivacious, Mrs. Blackburn is office manager of the Palford Medical Clinic in Winnipeg and a graduate of Winnipeg Normal School.

And, because she has never been associated with groups or organizations concerned with liquor laws or alcohol education, she says, "I may be in for a rough time being the only woman I don't know."

But Mrs. Russenbolt has words of solace and encouragement for her replacement. She says that though the seven years she spent on the board weren't easy, they were rewarding.

Mrs. Russenbolt has been a member of the board since it was formed and has had a direct hand in making more liberal the liquor laws of the province.

The major victory of her seven years, she feels, has been ridding the province of the habit of people out for an evening having to hide bottles under the table in order to have a drink with their entertainment.

MAY LOWER AGE. The problem of drinking among minors, she feels, has not been solved. She thinks a referendum asking to lower the age at which a person is considered a responsible probably will be the first step in legislation to ease this problem. But, she adds, "I think it will be a problem."

Mrs. Blackburn never taught at school although qualified as she was, she stepped into the government industry and was an active member of the Globe-Worshipful Union in the province.

Active in politics for the last 20 years, Mrs. Blackburn was unsuccessful Progressive Conservative candidate for Logan constituency in the last provincial election.

While the board now meets only once a month compared with several times a month during its formative years, Mrs. Blackburn still is in for a busy time. The board deals with as many as 20 applications at each meeting and the members get to know each holder of a licence in the province.

Between meetings, the members are required to become familiar with the records of waiting applicants, complete with investigation reports, police reports and any other information they feel necessary.

NOTED LEADER. The first woman president of Vassar College, girls' school at Arlington, N.Y., chartered in 1861, was Sarah G. Blanding, appointed in 1866.

ANN LANDERS

High Pitched Voices Are Embarrassing

Dear Readers: The following letter was forwarded to me by Mohammed Azhar Ali Khan, of the Morning News in Karachi, Pakistan. I am printing it because it demonstrates so pointedly the universality of man's problems.

Dear Ann Landers: I read your column today in the Karachi Morning News and the letter that struck me was written by a 17-year-old boy named David.

You see, I am 17 years old and my name is David, also. I have the same problem the American David wrote about. In fact, his description of himself fits me exactly.

I know how he feels when people mistake him on the telephone for his sister or his mother. It is horribly embarrassing not only for me, but for the person who makes the error. Like the American David, I too have to speak in the classroom because my voice is so high-pitched. When I make a contrived effort to speak in a lower voice I become tense and my voice becomes even higher.

Could you please send me the address of the American David, Mrs. Landers? Since we have the same problem perhaps we could help each other. Sincerely,

Dear David: Thank you for writing. I regret that I cannot do as you ask, but under no circumstances would I put one reader in touch with another through this column.

You sound like a fine boy, David, and the American David who wrote sounds like a fine boy, too, but I would not risk introducing people through the mails because sometimes people are not quite as fine as they sound on paper.

I hope you noticed my advice to the American David. It will work for you, too.

Dear Ann Landers: I just wrote a letter to you describing my problem. Before sealing the envelope I re-read it and was dumbfounded. Why? Because I suddenly realized I have read dozens of letters exactly like it — in your column.

Strange how each of us has a blind spot and thinks "I am different. The rules don't apply to me."

Here is the same tired story: Middle-aged woman, attractive, hungry for the excitement of an affair. Rationalizes that her husband takes her for granted. The years are slipping away — she needs more affection. A middle-aged man, also married, and in their social crowd, decides that he has been mistreated by her for years. His wife is cold and unfriendly. If it weren't for the children he'd get a divorce. How unfortunate that they didn't meet 20 years ago.

After a few months of strutting around, the Romeo becomes tired of her and suggests they'd better stop seeing each other "for awhile" because his wife is getting wise. So the lady gets the husband, plus heartache and humiliation.

I almost believed his lies until I suddenly recognized the familiar ring of my letter. I know now my affair was just like the others — cheap and meaningless. Perhaps the letter will awaken some other middle-aged woman who feels the need for excitement. — MY NAME IS LEGION

Dear Legion: Thanks for a frank and humble letter. I can add nothing.

Confidential to TAKEN ADVANTAGE OF: Who raised those vegetables? Your children are selfish and lazy because they have never been taught to accept responsibility. Your husband has been leaving pretty good, too. So long as you are willing to carry the whole load I can assure you they will be glad to let you do it.

Harold Down New Candidate For Mayor's Seat In Vernon

VERNON (Staff) — Vernon businessman Harold J. Down has announced he will run for mayor in the December 3 municipal elections. Commercial gardener Edward Rice and restaurateur Lionel Marler are already in the race.

Mr. Down served seven years as alderman at Vernon, one full year as acting mayor, as well as representing the city on many occasions.

He was president of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association for one year, and represented this organization at the Federation of Mayors convention in Chicago.

PUBLIC WORKS
For five years he served as chairman of the public works committee, and he also instituted a program of permanent road improvements, paving and sidewalk construction.

He served as chairman of the city hall and finance committee for two years, and initiated a revolving fund to finance owners share of sidewalk and local improvement construction.

He was appointed the city representative on centennial committee during B.C. Centennial celebrations; he negotiated the purchase of the present city hall building.

ELECTRIC RATES
Mr. Down proposed the original resolution on rural electrification which resulted in the preparation and presentation of a brief to the royal commission by former Mayor Frank Becker, ultimately reducing power rates in this area.

And for several years he served as chairman of the airport and new airport committee.

The following 10-point development program has been outlined by Mr. Down.

Consolidate all city business in open council, giving each alderman an opportunity to express their opinions on all important matters, so citizens will know the stand of each council member on all matters.

Will not sell present airport property because land use in this area will become very important in the next few years, and it would be unwise to dispose of this property at the present time.

Will immediately set up a committee to negotiate an option on property necessary for the development of an all-weather airport, and have the necessary bylaw for the purchase of same, prepared and presented not later than the December civic elections 1964.

Encourage the development of the tourist industry by encouraging and assisting private enterprise wherever possible in the development of tourist attractions.

Encourage the improvement of beach facilities so we may attract a larger proportion of tourists to remain in Vernon, as well as promote the Silver Star area as a summer attraction.

Immediately call all recreation groups together, from which a group of means committees will be chosen for the purpose of selecting the most suitable location from our existing facilities for the correlation of all sports activities, where floodlighting can be installed for night sports and entertainment during summer months. I will personally assist and encourage the city to assist in the eventual establishment of the aforementioned.

Co-operate with the provincial government and department of highways in the establishment of a divided traffic through the city and more specifically look into the possibility of continuing Mara Street (27th Street) through to connect with Highway 97 south of the army camp and extension of 32nd Street to meet Highway 97 north of town.

Consider the extension of city boundaries on the basis of those areas which could best be served by the extension of our existing water and sewer services, as well as taking into consideration the squaring of our present city boundaries.

Revive North Okanagan Metropolitan water board organized by former Mayor Frank Becker.

Make every available effort to hold the line or even reduce property taxes, which are gradually forcing industry out of our city, and use every means at our disposal to attract industry to our city.

I believe I have the experience and ability to work with fellow members of council, citizens of Vernon, and all levels of government in the best interests of Vernon and the North Okanagan.

"I pledge myself to use every means at our disposal, including support of chambers of commerce, tourist and industrial committees, bands and all media in publicizing Vernon wherever and whenever possible."

RCMP Start Search For Oyama Youth

VERNON (Staff) — RCMP here have begun an investigation into the disappearance of a 15-year-old Oyama boy, Lyle Spruce, missing from his home since Tuesday.

RCMP said they received information today from the boy's father, Neville Spruce, who said the boy left a note at his home indicating that he was going on a holiday.

Mr. Spruce, along with the area's Southwestern and another unidentified person have apparently been combing the hillsides around Oyama in the event the boy is camped in the area.

RCMP said the boy took with him a tent, sleeping bag, 22 calibre rifle and a transistor radio. It is unknown whether he took any food.

United Appeal Passes Halfway

VERNON (Staff) — Vernon and District United Appeal campaign has now exceeded the halfway mark of its $35,000 objective.

Campaign treasurer Ted Bradshaw said today, a total of $18,844 has been collected and deposited in the bank.

"This represents only one-third of the people accounted for," he said, "so we're pretty sure we'll exceed our quota."

Mr. Bradshaw said he felt there is still extensive "catch-up" canvassing to be done which should account for a increased portion of donations.

"Quite a number of people already canvassed, have indicated their intentions to wait until the month-end payday before donating, so this should help considerably," he said.

Publicity chairman George Cooper said today, the total collections to date is approximately $18,844 less than the amount collected during the corresponding period last year.

"We're trying for a last minute push," he said. "We are still of the opinion there is money lying around to be turned in. If we fall short of our intended quota this will result in the 17 participating agencies receiving less money."

"For some of the agencies this could mean a serious problem," he said. "These budgets are based on the minimums and not maximums."

Out of every $100 collected, the following agencies receive the following shares:

CARS $12.30; Golden Age Club $8.50; Canadian Bible Society $8.15; Cerebral Palsy $3.50; CNIB $9.00; Red Cross $34.50; John Howard Society $4.50; Vernon Retarded Children's Association $4.50; Lumbermen's Association $4.50; Mental Health $8.50; Navy League $8.50; Air Cadet League $8.50; Boy Scouts Association $8.15; Mother's March $10.00; SPCA $8.50; Home Makers Service $8.00; and Venture Training $3.00.

Seals Lead WHL After Decision

The champion San Francisco Seals are back to work today after a 2-1 victory over the Vancouver Canucks last night. The Seals, who have won 10 of their last 11 games, are looking to build on their lead in the Western Hockey League standings.

The Seals' victory was a 2-1 win over the Canucks. The Seals scored twice in the first period, while the Canucks scored once in the second period. The Seals' lead was held until the third period, when the Canucks scored to tie the game. The Seals then scored again in the third period to win the game.

LAWN BOWLERS ELECT EXECUTIVE FOR NEW SEASON

'Gump' Hurt Leafs Victors

They were joking about Gump when the Boston Bruins 4-3 on Phil Worsley before the game. But not after. When the Montreal Canadiens showed up for Wednesday night's game against the Maple Leafs in Toronto, the players ended Stanley rookie Jean-Guy Morissette.

"You're playing tonight," Morissette said to Worsley, who had just been traded to the Canadiens.

Worsley, who had been traded from the Bruins to the Canadiens, was a little late showing up for Wednesday night's game against the Maple Leafs. He was the first of the season to play in Toronto, and he was the first to play in the Canadiens' home arena.

Former Secrets Being Juggled

LONDON (CP) — Next time you're at the 19th hole and the club fore starts talking about the secrets of long hitting, get ready to strike back.

If he says it's all in the hands and the way you hold your club, tell him to think again. It may be that the legs have it.

This revolutionary notion, shattering the pattern of professional golf everywhere, emerged amid the first tentative findings of a scientific group trying to find out just what makes a power hitter in golf.

The experiments are taking place at a medical research centre in London's Hampstead district. The centre is a device called a Force Analysis Platform, popularly known as FAP, which records reactions on a multi-channel photographic recorder.

Three top golfers, including Del Rees of Wales, stand on the platform driving balls into a screen. One graph records total downward force exerted by feet and body; another measures lateral horizontal force; a third registers fore-and-aft force.

Preliminary studies indicate uniformity in the swing's tempo around the point of impact, and disparities in the downswing and follow through.

The graph recording foot pressure shows a pronounced peak just before contact with the ball. Writer Geoffrey Cousins, commenting in a bulletin of the Golf Society of Great Britain, says this peak is "obviously caused" by a sudden straightening of the left leg.

Rees shows this type of peak, Cousins says, even though he is about 30 pounds lighter than the other two swingers. From this Cousins deduces that Rees' "stamp" his foot vigorously just before impact. This may explain why he apparently builds up his downswing slowly and accelerates after impact.

Pursuing the point, Cousins reveals that Britain's Abe Mitchell, one of the great drivers of a bygone era, had extremely strong legs and, like Rees, a short, fast follow through.

"He achieved his great length, I am sure, by a rhythmic build-up of speed which carried on well beyond impact as well as imparting great power through strong legs just when most needed."

So stop worrying about your wrists, men, and go to work on those flabby calf muscles. They may be trying to blind you with science, but it's a welcome new twist on the old it's-all-in-your-hands story.

Piersall Will Return In '64 Claims He Has Two Offers

TORONTO (CP) — Jimmy Piersall said here Wednesday night that he'll be playing major league baseball again next season.

"I've got two good offers," said the multi-travelled center-fielder. "But I realize I can't command the high salaries any more."

Piersall, in town for a television appearance, took in a National Hockey League game in which Toronto Maple Leafs defeated Montreal Canadiens 4-3.

He was given his outright release last season by Los Angeles Angels — after an unsuccessful stint with the lowly New York Mets.

He also had things to say on the taped television show about baseball in general, and some of its personalities.

On Casey Stengel, manager of the Mets: "Case is great talker to the writers in the dugout, but on the field he don't know what ball park he's in."

On Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles Dodgers: "He's a Herb Sore with control. When I was with the New York Mets, I got Koufax like the Yankees and only worse."

Modifications For Ski Jump

CALGARY (CP) — Minor changes will bring the Mount Norquay ski jump facilities at Banff up to Olympic standards, the Calgary Olympic Development Association learned Tuesday.

International ski jump expert Horst Krieger of Oberstdorf, Bavaria, said minor improvements are needed in approach and landing areas.

Technical aspects of the association's bid for the 1968 Winter Olympics now are completed and final preparations are being made for presentation to the International Olympic Committee at Innsbruck, Austria, Jan. 28.

Earlier, downhill and cross country courses were rated up to Olympic standards by International Ski Federation officials.

Goyette Rises In Points Race

Phil Goyette's three-goal plunge and one assist in New York's 4-3 victory over Boston Wednesday night moved him into a third-place tie in the National Hockey League's scoring list.

Goyette, who only scored five times with Montreal Canadiens last season, ran his total in eight games this season to five goals and seven assists for 12 points. Tied with him are Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal and Kenny Wharram of Chicago.

Stan Mikita of Chicago, idle Wednesday night, owns the top position with six goals and eight assists for 14 points. Jean Beliveau of Montreal earned an assist in Canadiens' 6-3 loss in Toronto to gain sole occupancy of the runnerup spot at 13 points.

Bobby Hull of Chicago is in sixth position with 11 points and one point back of him is John Ferguson of Montreal, who picked up an assist Wednesday night.

Soviets Designate Washington Entry

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Ivory Tower, who finished eighth in last year's race while running under the name of Ivan, will represent the Soviet Union again in next month's Washington, D.C., International.

It was announced today through the Russian embassy in Washington that Ivory Tower will be substituted for Gudrun.

Ivory Tower, a four-year-old Irish-bred, will team with Bryansk as the Soviets try again to capture the 1 1/4-mile turf classic Nov. 11.

In five previous attempts, Russia's best showing was a third-place finish by Zabeg in 1960. The race this year is worth $150,000, with $90,000 going to the winner.

National Game Dying

MONTREAL (CP)—Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said the whole concept of professional hockey in Canada is changing. The change will benefit the game, he said.

Campbell made the remark about the state of pro hockey when asked in an interview in Canada.

Only four operate at present: Toronto and Montreal in the NHL, Quebec Aces in the American Hockey League and Vancouver in the Western Hockey League.

This compared with 22 pro clubs operating in the United States.

Campbell said the aim of most Canadian cities and towns, and their geographic location, and the lack of suitable arenas, imposes nearly insurmountable problems for a professional operation.

He sees little likelihood that this will ever change.

FOUR IN EAST

In the East, only Toronto, Montreal, Quebec City and recently Sudbury, Ont., have franchises for pro hockey, he said.

Of these, only Toronto and Montreal "could ever hope to handle an NHL franchise."

In the West, major cities like Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina, Edmonton and Calgary are "geographically isolated"—too far apart to render any kind of pro hockey scheme economical.

CLARENCE CAMPBELL

These cities, and many smaller centres, such as Trois-Rivières, Que., and Windsor, Ont., had various flings with pro hockey, successful for brief periods, unsuccessful most times.

"In all these cases, they were fly-by-night operations," Campbell said. None offered any form of stability.

For a period after the Second World War, hockey interest was at a peak, then began to wane as "people found so many other things to take their attention."

HASTENED BY TV

Televising of NHL games on a national network killed whatever pro clubs remained. But, says Campbell, nationwide TV only "hastened their departure."

He believes they would have folded anyway.

Now, NHL teams, lured by Campbell and his staff, have abandoned the idea of acquiring a mass of players in the hopes of acquiring a few really good ones.

Instead, scouting is more intense, selection sharper so that Campbell now says "we have never been in a better position than today in the matter of player supply."

A real evolution in this changing hockey picture, says Campbell, was the establishment this year of the Central Professional Hockey League. This is strictly a player development league, sponsored by all six NHL teams and not dependent on box-office receipts for its life. It operates in five United States cities, St. Paul, Omaha, Minneapolis, Indianapolis, and St. Louis.

This will join next year as a Toronto Maple Leafs farm team.

EPHL FOLDED

The forerunner of this kind of league was the Eastern Professional Hockey League, with the majority Canadian teams such as Ottawa-Hull, Hull-St. Marie, Trois-Rivières, Kingston and others, which folded last year.

EDDIE MATHEWS

Ed Mathews To Left Field

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee Braves' starting left fielder next year will be the National League's best—

Ed Mathews, who topped the third-base averages in 1965 for the first time in his 12 major league seasons.

Mathews, 32, played 142 games, all left field, during various emergencies.

And, manager Billy Bragan says, "He's my left fielder, as of now."

"We're going to work with him from the beginning of spring training and I'm confident that he'll develop into a first-class outfielder."

The 32-year-old slugger had a previous turn at the outfield in 1954, but returned to third after 10 games when a 20-year-old rookie named Hank Aaron appeared to be ready to stick in the majors.

Bluefin Season Ends Happily

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Cape Breton's fishing season has ended on a happy note. The province's department reports 270 bluefin were landed with net and trawl.

At least 21 tons were over 60 pounds, better than the total landed for both 1960 and 1965. The best previous year was 1961 when 131 were landed.

John Vardy, an army captain from St. John's, landed the heaviest fish this year, a 600-pounder, but it fell well short of Newfoundland's record bluefin, 1,000 pounds, landed by Al Vardy in 1957. It was 107 pounds off the world record.

Mr. Vardy landed 11 bluefin this year.

Twenty-four tons were landed by women. Mrs. Grace Thomas of St. John's landed the way with a 300-pounder. Mrs. Patricia Dean of Miami, Fla., brought home the most—five.

There are about 65,000 students in Israel educational institutions compared to 130,000 in the school year 1965-66.

Accurate Place-Kickers Few And Far Between

Any Canadian youngster with ambitions of becoming a professional football player in this country would do well to consider the fact that he is a convert. The report of his 1962 miss on a convert kicking. The day players, but he last says. The day players, but he last says. The day players, but he last says.

And this greatest of Canadian convert kickers probably is eventually increased to 84 by the time he is 34.

This is difficult to understand in a professional sport, but the figures are there.

Why does this situation exist?

Listen to an expert, John Robert (Tip) Logan, a good example of how Canadians can stack up against high-priced imports.

Tip, a native of Port Hope, Ont., played for Hamilton Tiger-Cats from 1961 through the 1965 season and in that time has become the most famous in modern-day football.

He missed only four convert attempts with Tiger-Cats.

"It may be difficult to make a statistical analysis of the question in general," said Tip, now in the United States business in Hamilton.

"However, I believe we that there isn't enough emphasis put on this phase of the game and on the importance it has on the game. They sort of go about convert kicking in a haphazard manner, just to get it up there."

"If a Canadian boy wants to make it in the pro ranks, my suggestion to him is to try to become a specialist on convert kicking, and that means practice. Many games have been won and lost on convert kicking."

Tip, now 35 and a rated football fan, said he practiced his art five or six a week. "We even had five-minute scrimmages on convert kicking, primarily for protection purposes. Our coach, Gus Vanders, concentrated on this phase of the game."

It certainly paid off. Tip, a six-foot 195-pounder, built a reputation as Canada's greatest lifetime convert and field goal kicker in his five-year stint with the Tabbies.

Trabert Quits Tennis Game

PARIS (AP)—Tony Trabert turned his back on competitive tennis today.

For the past 10 years, Tony's life has been devoted to playing, winning and promoting tennis tournaments. Now he's turning to business.

After coming out of the navy in 1953, Trabert won the United States singles championship twice, Wimbledon once and the French title twice. Then he turned professional in 1955. For the last year he has been executive director of the International Professional Tennis Players' Association, acting as promoter for the pro tour.

Last week, Trabert will be in Los Angeles to take charge of the branch of a Cincinnati-based "men's and women's hockey."

Bananas are not native to Canada... and neither are rum. Lemon Hart, for example, is produced under the most wonderful conditions in The Caribbean. But for Lemon Hart, even that is not enough: It's shipped to London where it rests quietly in underground vaults where neither the temperature nor the humidity varies more than a degree or two year in year out.
